BroadcastSIMS values your privacy and the privacy of students. The statement below summarizes our privacy policies. By visiting the BroadcastSIMS website or using BroadcastSIMS software, you are agreeing to the policies outlined in our Privacy Statement.

Information Collection and Usage

On our website, licensees may register to access Broadcast SIMS software as a teacher. Personal information collected at this time includes licensee name and email address. Licensees who are registered as teachers may also invite sub users, or students, to their Broadcast SIMS class. To register for a class, students must submit their name and email address. This personally identifiable information is only used to allow students and teachers to access their respective accounts.

Student progress through simulation materials as well as suggested simulation grades are collected and stored by Broadcast SIMS. Student progress and grade recommendations are only available to the license holder of Broadcast SIMS material. The license holder will only have access to the progress and grade recommendations of students registered in the license holder's respective class. All grades stored by Broadcast SIMS are unofficial recommendations and are subject to changes (i.e. curving, correction, or other adjustments) at the discretion of the licensee. Broadcast SIMS does not store any mid-term, final, or transcript level grades. Grades on supplementary materials included in the Broadcast SIMS package are not recorded or stored by Broadcast SIMS.

Data collected by Broadcast SIMS is not shared with any third parties and is used only for educational purposes.
